

THE TREATY BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 23, 1886.

By the first article of the new treaty between the United States and Great Britain, the contracting parties agree jointly to propose to the Republics of Nicaragua and Costa Rica the arrangements contained in the following articles:

A territory within the following limits shall be set apart for the Mosquito Indians. And then it goes on to establish the boundary. The boundary is to be designated and marked by two Commissioners, one by the United States and one by the President of the Republic of Nicaragua.

Article 2. The Mosquito Indians, confining themselves within the Territory designated, shall enjoy the right to make, by their national council or council, and to carry into effect, all such laws as they may deem necessary for the government and protection of all persons within the same, and of all property therein belonging to their people, or to such persons as have contracted themselves with them. Their rights of property and of local government within the Territory shall be recognized, affirmed and guaranteed by the Republic of Nicaragua, in treaties to be made by that State with the United States and Great Britain, respectively.

Article 3. Each of these treaties shall stipulate and engage that it shall enact laws to prevent the introduction of lands from the Mosquito Indians and the introduction and sale of spirituous liquors among the said Indians, and shall be liable to the same extent as the Republic of Nicaragua, by which the latter may be incorporated and united with the former; but it shall be stipulated in such that the said Mosquito Indians shall enjoy the same rights and be liable to the same extent as other citizens of the said Republic of Nicaragua.

Article 4. All the territory south of the river Waicore, or Segovis, not included within the limits of the reserve set apart for the Mosquito Indians, shall, without prejudice to the rights of the Republic of Honduras, or to any question of boundary between the said Republic and the Republic of Nicaragua, be recognized and declared to be within the limits and sovereignty of the Republic of Nicaragua on the following conditions: The Republic of Costa Rica shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 5. On any question of boundary, the said Republic of Honduras, or the Republic of Nicaragua, or the Republic of Costa Rica, shall be bound to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 6. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 7. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 8. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 9. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 10. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 11. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 12. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 13. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 14. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 15. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 16. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 17. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 18. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 19. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 20. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 21. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 22. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

Article 23. The Republic of Nicaragua and Costa Rica shall, under the terms of this article, be bound to the Republic of Honduras, in the same manner as to the Republic of Nicaragua, and to be settled by the arbitration of the United States of America and Great Britain, or by any other tribunal, shall be able to do so.

Article 24. The Republic of Nicaragua shall retain for its citizens the freedom of navigation up and down the San Juan River, from its mouth to the mouth of the San Juan River, with liberty to enter and quit the same, and to store their cargoes in that port, and without being subject to any duties of import or export, tonnage duty, or other tax or public charge whatever, except for light money and other necessary port charges.

MARINE AFFAIRS.

DEAD WHITEHEAD.

The steaming Achilles, Capt. Gedney, arrived on Tuesday night from the wreck at Barrow, reports that when about five miles north of Barrow, saw a brig with a signal of distress flying, and on making for her she proved to be the brig Whitehead, Capt. Peterson, from Cardenas, N. Y., consigned to N. Del Rio. She was in a leaky condition, with most of her sails blown away. Capt. Gedney took her in tow, but the storm increasing and the sea running very high, he was compelled to let her go.

The Whitehead was a fine, fast sailing vessel of about 350 tons, and rated A2. She was built in this city in 1842 for a Government light ship, and was a very strong vessel. She was afterward sold to parties in this city and altered to a brig. She was valued at about $9,000 and partly insured.

COLLISION ON THE RIVER.

The Staten Island ferry boat Hunback on the 5 o'clock train from Staten Island, when off Governor's Island, ran into the small steamer J. T. Underhill, and sank her.

FIRE IN EIGHTY-SECOND STREET.

On Monday evening a fire in the dwelling-house of Nathaniel Spencer, in Eighty-second street, between Third and Fourth avenues, in consequence of not having been properly set in its place by the servant, fell to the floor, scattering the coals about and setting fire to the floor. The occupants of the premises, assisted by Officer Mosham, who was close at hand, put the fire out with a few pails of water. Damage about $30.

FIRE IN GRAND STREET.

The same evening a lamp exploded in the cigar-store of Rubenburgh & Adolph, No. 571 Grand street, setting fire to the premises. Damage about $30.

FIRE IN HUDSON STREET.

On Tuesday morning at 11:35 o'clock, a fire broke out in the building No. 584 Hudson street, lower part occupied by Beecher & Griffin as a coffee-roasting establishment, and upper part by Charles N. Beecher, feed mill. The fire originated in the basement, and was probably caused by the friction of the machinery. Loss of Beecher & Griffin $50; insured for $50 in the Poughkeepsie Insurance Company. The feed mill was damaged to the amount of $500 by water; insured for $1,000 in the Poughkeepsie Insurance Company. The building, owned by Dudley & Lee, sustained $50 damage; no insurance.

FIRE IN CLINTON STREET.

On Tuesday at 9 p. m. a fire occurred in the dwelling house No. 91 Clinton street, but it was extinguished with a few pails of water by the occupants of the premises. The firemen were on the ground and had their hose stretched, but fortunately their services were not needed. The fire originated on the first floor (occupied by Wm. Earle), in a closet, and was occasioned by the careless use of a female in rummaging for some articles with a lamp. Mr. Earle sustained damage to his furniture to the amount of $130. No insurance.

THE LATE FIRE ON SHIPBOARD.

At noon on Tuesday nothing remained of the steamer Knoxville, but a portion of her harbor cable-box, stern and smoke-stack. Not having any cargo in at the time she took fire, and being very buoyant, she burned to the water's edge, and was completely gutted both fore and aft. What remains of her hull lies at the bottom of the dock.

It is as yet impossible to estimate the exact loss or the amount of insurance, the vessel being owned by a stock company, each stockholder insuring for himself. Mr. Mitchell was largely interested, his interest being insured in the Sun, Atlantic and Orient Companies.

FIRE IN CLINTON PLACE.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning a fire occurred in the large building No. 42 Clinton place, occupied by Mrs. Munger as a boarding-house, in consequence of some defect in the register connected with the boiler furnace. The fire originated on the parlor floor, and soon filled the building with smoke, which aroused the occupants from their slumbers. Several of the ladies, being greatly frightened, fainted, and were near being suffocated. Fortunately, however, no one sustained serious injury. The building and furniture was damaged to the amount of $3,000, principally by water. Mrs. Munger was insured for $2,000. The building is also insured.

FIRE IN WILLIAM AND NORTH WILLIAM STREETS.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night a fire broke out in the five-story brick building No. 223 William street, extending through the block to No. 20 North William street; basement, fourth and fifth floors, occupied by Billings Brothers, job printers; first floor by Otto Baas as a lager beer saloon; second and third floors by J. G. Somerville, bookbinder. The precise locality or cause of the fire we did not ascertain, but suffice it to say, the flames spread rapidly, and soon enveloped the entire building.

The fire extended to the adjoining buildings on either side, but its progress in those directions was checked before much damage was sustained. No. 223, owned by Billings Brothers, was entirely consumed, with its contents. Their loss on building, stock, machinery, and other property, will probably amount to $25,000 or $30,000. Loss of Mr. Somerville about $5,000. We were unable to ascertain whether or not these parties had any insurance on their premises or stock. Loss of Otto Baas about $2,500; no insurance.

The building No. 221, occupied by Francis Brilhard, manufacturer of jewelry boxes, and other tenants, was damaged to the amount of $1,000 or $1,500. It is probably insured. The losses of the occupants will amount to about $250 or $300 each.

The building No. 225, owned and occupied by E. Villenman, wholesale dealer and manufacturer, was damaged to the amount of $300. The stock sustained slight damage. Mr. Villenman is insured $5,000 in the Astor and $5,000 in the Citizens Insurance Companies.

FIRE IN THIRD AVENUE.

Last night, at 7 o'clock, a carpenter's shop on Third avenue, near Seventy-fourth street, was destroyed by fire. Loss $500.

CITY ITEMS.

CHARGE OF ENNEZLEMENT AGAINST A BOOK-KEEPER.—James J. Farrell, recently a book-keeper with L. T. Valentine, merchants, No. 12 John street, was arrested yesterday by Officer McManus, of the Fourth Ward, charged with having, on and since the 7th of July last, embezzled and appropriated to his own use $250, plus belonging to his employers. Farrell admits that he collected the sum in question from various parties, and used it for his private purposes. He was held by Justice Connolly for examination.

SURPRISE OF BURGERS AND THIEVES.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Officers Holt and Conway, of the Sixth Ward, discovered that the smoking establishment and provision store of Christian Zeigler, No. 30 North Avenue had been broken into and robbed of a considerable amount of hardware and tools. On examining, however, they found that the burglars had become alarmed and left all plunder behind, in the hall way of No. 34. Suspicion rests against parties of whom the Police are in pursuit.

THE LATE TOWN SKINNING CASE.—Wolf Rosenheim, one of the parties who is alleged to have skinned Mrs. Louisa Williams out of $100, under pretense of getting her husband out of prison without her coming to trial, was arrested yesterday by Officer Martin and taken before Justice West, who held him to bail in $500. Mr. Rosenheim is a native of Russia. An examination in the case of Pier will be had on Friday.

HOW TO RISE IN THE WORLD.—Young men should be temperate, active, courteous, prompt, careful, persevering, honorable, honest, resourceful, generous, and should thoroughly "know themselves."

Phrenology teaches self-knowledge, and with it all the Christian graces, together with the modes of attaining to them in the world. The Hon. Horace Mann says: "I look upon Phrenology as the most important of the human sciences. It is the key to the human mind, and the key to the human heart. It is the key to the human soul, and the key to the human destiny. It is the key to the human future, and the key to the human hope.
